What is the procedure for applying for a student visa?

If you plan to study in Germany, you need to apply for a student visa at the respective German mission abroad before travelling. Citizens of the EU are exempted from this duty, as well as - under certain conditions according to the EU-mobility program - foreigners who already hold a temporary residence permit as a student issued by another EU country. Due to the EU-mobility program, please see the Implementation Status of the REST-Directive of the Federal Office for Migration and Refugees.

Details of the documents to be presented with your visa application are available on the website of the competent German mission abroad or can be taken directly from the mission itself.

Documents have to be presented proving inter alia that the applicant has been accepted for studies by the University. The German mission abroad will then forward the visa application for an opinion to the foreign authority in the University's host country.

The German mission abroad can only issue the visa for entry once the foreign authority has given its approval.
